NON-FINAL OFFICE ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims merely setting forth physical characteristics desired in article, and not setting forth specific compositions which would meet such characteristics, are invalid as vague, indefinite, and functional since they cover any conceivable combination of ingredients either presently existing or which might be discovered in the future and which would impart desired characteristics. Claims 1-58 recite only the desired properties of the absorbent composite, rather than setting forth structural and/or chemical characteristics of the material in the absorbent composite. No elements of a composite are set forth. The claims only require a single particle which is inconsistent with the preamble. Additionally, it is not clear whether the specification could support such claim breadth.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 6720073 to Lange et al.
5. The Lange reference teaches an absorbent composite including at least one particle of superabsorbent material covered with at least one particle of coating material (col. 5, lines 33-35). The coating includes particles of a hydrophilic cellulosic material (col 7, lines 33-45) and the silicate ZEOFREE 5175A used in Applicant's disclosure (col. 7, lines 61-63). The coating materials are combined (col. 8, lines 16-24). Centrifuge Retention Capacity is taught at column 14, lines 2-16, and meets the limitations of claims 2, 21, and 38. While the reference does not test the Free Swell Gel Bed Permeability or the Gel Bed Permeability Under Load properties of the composite, the properties are inherent because the prior art uses the same materials, in the same amounts, as disclosed in Applicant's specification. Since the same materials and amounts are used, the claimed particle lengths and diameters are all met by the prior art.
